“Regarding the Third Language Option in Class VI”

Dear Parent,

Linguistic diversity is important from various perspectives in a multilingual society like ours. Multilingual and multicultural societies exist through their languages which transmit and preserve knowledge and cultures in a sustainable way. Multilingualism generates social inclusion, innovation and imagination. Inclusion of commonly spoken languages also leads to cultural diversity and serves as instruments of mutual understanding.

As a part of the school curriculum, our school has decided to include few more languages as available options for the students of class VI from the academic session 2020-21, as the ‘Third Language’. This includes Indian languages like Odia and Bengali and foreign language like French. This is in addition to already offered Sanskrit language for the students. The idea is to offer diverse language options (third language) for the learners in a globally competitive world context.

Kindly discuss the same with your ward and help him/her choose the third language of his/her choice and competence.

NB:

- Student opting for any one language out of three options mentioned above (Odia/Bengali/French) cannot opt for Sanskrit in class IX (If not opted for Sanskrit)
- The format given below must be filled in by the student, clearly mentioning the choice, with the signature of the parent and submitted to the class teacher on the reopening day, without fail.

Warm regards,

R.K. Trivedi

THE HABIT OF READING

“Reading maketh a full man” – Francis Bacon

If walking exercises the muscles of the whole body than the same can be said for the habit of reading for the mind - it develops all the faculties of the mind. Reading can be initiated at an early age and gets better as students move up in higher grades and beyond. Studies show that cultivating lifelong reading habits is essential to long-term success. Here are some of the benefits of reading especially for young students :

Develops Mental Capacity - Reading develops the mind’s ability to think larger. It rather enables a student to think on subjects and people that the reader thought never existed.

Enriches Vocabulary - The new words and phrases one learns during the course of reading enriches the student’s language which can improve his/her comprehension and expression in all the subjects.

Expands the horizons of the mind - The easiest way to understand the various cultures and practices that exist in this world is through reading. This helps one through insights into the way people from different cultures act and think when faced with similar problems.

Improves Concentration – When a student finds something interesting to read, he/she becomes part of the story. This provides a clear focus on the subject and also exercises his/her brain to think ahead and try to analyze the next steps.

Builds Self Esteem – Books and articles on true stories of leadership or overcoming challenges provide a simple way to boost one’s self esteem. Students get inspired thinking – “If they can, why can’t I?”

Following are some tips for cultivating the habit of reading:

- Start early. You can enjoy reading the Reading Primers first.
- Model good reading habits by watching others who are fond of reading.
- Read aloud with good reading skill modeled by the librarian or teachers.
- Read for pleasure. Just explore without purpose of studying for exam.
- Read high-quality books. Reading books by great minds leads to great thoughts.
- Visit a library regularly or buy books from book stores to create your own.
