Educational Outing- Village Festival (Adarsh Gram Panchayat)

Three days educational outing was organized in the pre-primary wing with the name 'Village Festival'. The outing set the example of art, culture and scholars. It came up with great pomp and show and presented a nostalgic atmosphere. The whole wing was indulged in its preparation and presentation with great energy and dynamism.

It was purposely organized to convey the feel of our state 'Chhattisgarh'. As we know that our state is a pillar of small villages having so many culture and traditions to be carried, but somewhere it is neglected and in order to acquaint and aware our tiny tots, this proved to be a wonderful measure. It was primarily started with the aim to teach the children the art of 'sharing' and they were asked to bring their old toys to put the concept of old toy shops in the premises. Through this, the children also learnt the notion of buying with dummy notes prepared by the class teachers. The children were very energetic and actively participated. To add more flavors, stall of Jhalmuri was also arranged by the respective class teachers for the children and this served the purpose of our tiny tots with toy in one hand and the jhalmuri cone on the other.

This shows the fantastic background of a village and kids all around with colourful toys. The learning is always high with fun and our progenies learnt and saw the various aspects of a village. They came to know how the panchayat works for the betterment of the villages, the use of Choupaal and Machaan to keep the harvests from the field. Children also danced and made moves to Chhattisgarhi music. They also learnt to keep the surroundings clean. The Educational outing organized at the school premises was the perfect example of maximum utilization of the resource, involvement of every individual, learning at its high for children as well as for the teachers within the given timeframe without spoiling the study hours. It was

Earth Day

The pre - primary wing of O.P. Jindal School hosted various events in the honour of Earth Day, which was observed on 23rd April 2018. The events were intended to support environment awareness and provide information to students about ways to help and care for the planet. The main focus was to educate the students about small ways by which they are able to help and protect the planet both on and off the campus and encourage them to take those steps.

A short movie was presented for the students which showed the various ways of making the environment clean and green, making the students aware about the concept of reuse, reduce and recycle. The students were given brainstorming session by their mother teacher which made them aware about what little things they can do to save and protect our mother earth, like they should give plants as a birthday gift to their friend, paper and jute bags should be used instead of plastic bags, to use solar energy instead of electrical energy, lights and fans to be switched off when not in use and conservation of water. The children were also given a logo of Earth day which will remind them of the steps they have learnt in the school to save the mother earth.

Republic Day (26th January)

The programme started with the arrival of the hon'ble chief guest, The Executive Director, JSPL Mr. Pankaj Goutam who was escorted by the NCC cadets and a team of teachers. The tri-colour was hoisted by the chief guest followed by National Anthem. The students of O.P. Jindal school presented a patriotic group song to instill a sense of responsibility towards our motherland. Students of standard 8 and 11 presented their marvellous oratory skills through speeches, which left us spell-bound.

The inspiring speeches were given by honourable E.D. Sir and our revered Principal Sir, Mr. R.K. Trivedi. The speeches altogether made a sensational approach to ponder on the rampant issues of our society and the way we are addressing to those as a citizen.

Students and teachers were specially invited by Hon'ble Chairman, Mr. Naveen Jindal to attend the program at Polo Ground, where he presented his motivational speech. The program concluded with sweets distribution.

De Worming Day

The National De-worming Day was observed on 9th February 2018 by the Ministry of Health and Family Welfare with the objective of de-worming children within the age group of 1-19 years. Our school also decided to extend its whole hearted participation in this noble initiative taken up by the government.

This program was popularized in our school throughout the first week of February in the form of poster display, assembly announcement and health counseling. Parents were intimated over the importance of this program through SMS and circular. Written consent was taken from parents of students of classes Nursery to Five. Students in classes VI to XII were instructed to seek verbal consent of their parents regarding the medication for de-worming. Teachers were also informed through handouts (sent via mail) containing detailed information on de-worming about their role and responsibilities in order to make this program a successful one.

Students in all the classes (Nursery –XII)have been provided free medicine for deworming(Albendazole) in the presence of the class teacher at 11:00 AM , half an hour after the recess except those students whose parents did not consent for the intake of medicine. Overall the program was conducted successfully.

Book Fair

Thousands thronged the 17th annual OPJS Book Fair to attend the opening . Running annually since its inception, OP Jindal School organized a book fair on 19th & 20th January, 2018. The fair was inaugurated by the D.E.O of Raigarh Mr. R. K. Dewangan. The timing was from 9:00 AM to 7:30 PM. The main aim of OPJS Book Fair is to encourage reading habit among people of all age groups, by making quality books accessible to them at affordable prices. It Takes a Reader to Grow a Reader: When Adults Read, Kids also read.

OPJS Book Fair attracted thousands of visitors from the city, hosts some of the biggest names in publishing and the cultural sphere and organizes many events over its 2-day duration. There were around 25 publishers who participated in the Fair. Publishers made a beeline for the fiction shelves. Visitors enjoyed a wide range of activities during the fair with many events geared specifically for children. This ranges from distribution of wish list, arts and crafts activities & demonstration of vedic maths techniques. One of them magnetized children by Clifford – The Big Red Dog Costume Character and offered lucky draw for those purchasing above Rs. 800. The buyers were the parents who seem to look beyond the immediate school-curriculum for skill enhancement. Another factor that is very much evident at this Book Fair is the improved quality of books, glossy covers, legible font size and clear illustrations which made things easy to understand. Visitors got very good value for money.

As per the vision, the 17th annual OPJS Book Fair ended on a high note on 20th evening as thousands of booklovers thronged to grab their favorite books in best deals.
